Congratulations!

And welcome to the wonderful world of retirement. No more lesson plans, grading papers, parent conferences, budget cuts and sleepless nights worrying about your students.

As an OEA member, you now have the opportunity to join us and many other retired school employees in OEA-Retired and NEA-Retired. “Why should I?” you ask. We hope the following will convince you. You can:

- Continue such NEA Member Benefits as insurance or credit cards.
- Substitute, as many of us do, with the same liability insurance you have had as an active member to protect you in case of an unforeseen event in the school.
- Continue to receive Today's OEA and NEA Today publications. Additionally, you will receive PrimeTimes, OEA-Retired's newsletter, and This Active Life, the magazine for NEA-Retired members, to keep you informed about activities around the state.
- Choose to be active in political activities, including remaining a member of OEA-PIE, to ensure continued support of your colleagues still in the trenches, and of course, the students you are leaving behind.

Please look over the enclosed brochure and feel free to call any of us if you have questions. In the fall, you will receive further information from OEA about joining OEA-Retired and NEA-Retired.

Thanks for considering this great opportunity.
