

winter recharge

a retreat for new & aspiring educators

Join the Oregon Education Association for a Winter Recharge: New & Aspiring Educator retreat. This opportunity connects early career educators and aspiring educators through networking, fun and professional learning. This event is intended for OEA members who are Aspiring Educators (students moving into the profession) and educators in their first five years of the profession, whether education is your first, second, or third career!

The retreat will be held in Newport, OR with time for getting to know other members from across the state. Learn about your state and local union and engage in professional practice conversations like building a safe, welcoming and inclusive school, racial and social justice, and promoting health and wellness. There will also be time for participants to meet in affinity groups and job-alike groups.
